

CELEBRATION OF THE INTERNATIONAL DAY OF PEACE September 21, 2012 (Madagascar)

Under the theme "Sustainable peace for a sustainable future" for Madagascar, the celebration of the International Day of Peace was held at the University of Antananarivo, programs are loaded for the day of September 21 with young students include, among other, the beautification of green space in the campus, followed by a conference on sustainable peace in the Amphi Faculty of Letters.

In the afternoon, the celebration is marked by a meeting of the shares, and especially to launch the activities of WM and gathered a hundred young for this session.

In parallel, peace vigils were organized in different regions of Madagascar. The objective of the course is to challenge the issues of peace and democracy. Specific objectives of the march were to deliver messages to the promotion of peace and democracy, the authorities aware of the security situation in Madagascar.

Our next event will be the preparation for the International Day of Volunteering in December; it will be a better opportunity to boost the WM in Madagascar.

