About ISO 31000

- ✓ ISO 31000: 2009 provides principles and generic guidelines on risk management.
- ✓ ISO 31000: 2009 can be used by any public, private or community enterprise, association, group or individual. Therefore, ISO 31000: 2009 is not specific to any industry or sector.
- ✓ ISO 31000: 2009 can be applied throughout the life of an organization, and to a wide range of activities, including strategies and decisions, operations, processes, functions, projects, products, services and assets.
- ✓ ISO 31000: 2009 can be applied to any type of risk, whatever its nature, whether having positive or negative consequences.
- ✓ It is intended that ISO 31000: 2009 be utilized to harmonize risk management processes in existing and future standards. It provides a common approach in support of standards dealing with specific risks and/or sectors, and does not replace those standards.
- ✓ ISO 31000: 2009 is not intended for the purpose of certification.

Why refer to ISO 31000 in risk management ?

- ✓ ISO 31000 provides a single global reference for stakeholders in an organisation who have an interest in risk management
- ✓ ISO 31000 is the only internationally recognized ISO standard in risk management
- ✓ ISO 31000 has been adopted by most countries as their national risk management standard
- ✓ ISO 31000 is based on the long experience of existing risk management standards such as AS/NZS4360 developed 20 years ago.
- ✓ ISO 31000 can apply to any activity or domain in any organisation, any size – public or private
- ✓ ISO 31000 provides an “umbrella” for many recognised standards and guidelines that refer to risk management
- ✓ ISO 31000 is a voluntary application, non prescriptive, with no legal requirement and specifically not intended for certification
- ✓ ISO 31000 is robust and simple to apply
- ✓ ISO 31000 is a great opportunity for an organisation to review their existing risk management practices
- ✓ ISO 31000 promotes business performance and is not a bureaucratic compliance/reporting system
- ✓ ISO 31000 text is concise (24 pages) and clearly written

The G31000 Partnership

- ✓ to lead the development of sound Global Risk Management Standards
- ✓ to promote the use of the ISO 31000: 2009 Risk Management standard as the international reference for Risk Management
- ✓ to be the first point of contact on ISO 31000 issues for the Media, Consulting, policy makers and organisations from any sectors
- ✓ to develop the G31000 as a key information, training and resources center on ISO 31000 issues.

The G31000 Partnership will be launched in 2013 to enable organisations to work with the Global Institute for Risk Management Standard, a not-for-profit organisation, to deliver the overall G31000 mission of: Promoting the ISO 31000 Risk Management Standards worldwide.

G31000 Partnership is directly managed by G31000, the global platform on ISO 31000

Corporate membership

There is a strong need for Risk Management Standards. It has already matured with the publication of the ISO 31000: 2009 Risk Management standard. It is fundamental that we sustain this Standard and continue to raise awareness across all sectors. World-class organisations want to be leaders in risk management, helping move these risk management methodologies forwards.

The G31000 Partnership is the vehicle for public and private organisations to drive their own evolution and take advantage of the opportunities proposed.
