

Invitation to Side Event

Climate Justice Programme (CJP), the Center for International Environmental Law (CIEL),
the Heinrich Böll Foundation (hbs), the Climate Accountability Institute (CAI), and the Union of Concerned Scientists (UCS)

cordially invite you to attend our side event at COP 20 in Lima:

Advancing Accountability for Climate Damages

Thursday, December 11, 2014, 11:30 – 13:00
Room Machu Picchu

The panelists will discuss scientific, legal & ethical dimensions of climate responsibility, focusing on the Carbon Majors research that shows that two-thirds of industrial carbon pollution can be traced to just 90 big fossil fuel producers. This panel will explore ways to establish responsibility, seek reparation, and change fossil fuel industry behavior, as well as discuss the practical implementation of Carbon Majors research such as a fossil fuel extraction levy for loss and damage finance.

Speakers:

Richard Heede, Director, Climate Accountability Institute

www.climateaccountability.org

Peter Frumhoff, Director of Science & Policy, Union of Concerned Scientists

www.ucsusa.org

Niranjali Amerasinghe, Dir. Climate & Energy Program, Center for International Environmental Law

www.ciel.org

Julie-Anne Richards, Manager - International Policy, Climate Justice Programme

www.climatejustice.org.au

Moderator:

Lili Fuhr, Dep. Head Ecology and Sustainable Development, Heinrich Böll Foundation

www.boell.de

Please read about the Carbon Majors:

*Tracing anthropogenic carbon dioxide and methane emissions to fossil fuel and cement producers, 1854–2010*, by Richard Heede, in: Climatic Change, Jan 2014, Vol.122, 1-2, as outlined in this Guardian story

*Carbon Majors Funding Loss and Damage*, a discussion paper by Julie-Anne Richards and Keely Boom, published by Heinrich Böll Foundation, June 2014