Please join Conservation International for a presentation by Lorena Aguilar, IUCN's Senior Gender Advisor, and Rebecca Pearl-Martinez, EGI Manager, to discuss the new Environment and Gender Index (EGI).

The EGI monitors gender equality and women's empowerment in the environmental arena in order to measure progress, improve information, and empower countries to take steps forward for gender equality and for the environment.

The Index was launched at COP 19 and has gained much attention and recognition for being the first tool to monitor government performance on these issues.
